Hitler And Chamberlain Negotiations Are Temporarily Halted

Hitch Develops In Parley Over Czech Partition

Chamberlain And Hitler In Disagreement Over Some Issues

EXPECT CONFERENCE WILL BE RESUMED

British Prime Minister Wants Guarantee German Troops Will Not March

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
GODESBURG, Germany, Sept. 23.—Mystery surrounding a major hitch in the "peace conference" between Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain and Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler deepened tonight when the conversations failed to resume after hours of delay.

The conference presumably was postponed only until Hitler had sent a written reply to a letter dispatched by Chamberlain in connection with the Fuehrer's intention to march into Czechoslovakia unless Czech troops evacuated the Sudeten areas immediately. Almost two hours after Hitler's reply was delivered, however, the talks had not resumed.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—High official quarters today gave to British political leaders the following version of the hitch in the Hitler-Chamberlain conversations at Godesberg:

At the same time that Chamberlain informed Hitler of the Anglo-French proposals to Czechoslovakia, he requested assurances from Hitler that there would be no precipitate military action pending a settlement.

Hitler informed Chamberlain that in view of Czech military movements he was unable to give such assurances, and if necessary German troops would be ordered to march.

Chamberlain thereupon sent a letter to Hitler stating that their talk could only continue if Britain received the assurances which had been asked earlier, the British prime minister putting his request in writing. (Continued On Page Two)

PA NEW OBSERVES

Donato Pioletti, of 1215 Croton avenue, brought a bee of unusual size to The News office this morning. The vegetable was grown by Columbus Tomassi, of 1209 Croton avenue, from seed given him by Mr. Pioletti. The bee weighs 7 pounds, is 17 inches long, and 6 inches in diameter.

One of Pa New's observant readers calls our attention to an error made in a recent issue in which McKers Rocks was located in Beaver county. It should have been Allegheny county. We surely appreciate this correction. It would have been a terrible thing to have gone through life, believing that McKers had his rocks in Beaver county.

Czech Troops To Hold Frontiers Until Final Partition Plan Is Made

By GEORGE LANGWELL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PRAGUE, Sept. 23.—Oblivious to German threats, Czechoslovakia will hold all her frontiers with the full might of her army until Great Britain and France draw up full terms of their partition plan, it was authoritatively stated today.

The new military government of Premier General Jan Syrový has no intention of bowing to Nazi demands and evacuating Czech troops from the Sudeten and other border areas until a formal communication is received from London and Paris setting forth actual details of the partition, it was said.

Prepare For Eventualities

Obviously preparing for all eventualities, Syrový's regime assigned special guards to all public buildings in Prague and dispatched 122 new truckloads of soldiers in the direction of Carlsbad near the frontier. Czech troops remained in position in most of the Sudeten area. (Continued On Page Two)

Official Quarters Of Czech Capital Says Report Is Unfounded

PRAGUE MAKES OFFICIAL DENIAL

(International News Service)
LONDON, Sept. 23.—A report telegraphed to London from Prague by Reuters' agency declaring members of the Sudeten free corps had launched a "general invasion" of Sudeten territory in Czechoslovakia was denied by official quarters in the Czech capital today.

An International News Service dispatch direct from Prague said Reuters' reports that Sudeten, assisted by German storm troopers and elite guards had been invading Czechoslovakia "from the direction of Germany" were without foundation.

The Czech legation previously had characterized the report as "exaggerated", although widespread frontier incidents were admitted. Reuters' agency stated at 5:30 a. m. (12:30 p. m.) that it was standing on its dispatch pending further information.

Prague, Sept. 23.—British reports of a German invasion of Sudetenland were officially denied here today.

The plane wreckage was scattered over half a mile. Albany airport officials said an army plane, piloted by Captain M. C. Harper, left early this morning for Mitchell Field. It should have passed over Hudson, however, long before the crash. One wing of the wrecked plane bore a yellow star, the insignia of the army.

Chamberlain Stands Firm

Adamant In Connection With Demands Of Poland And Hungary

(International News Service)
LONDON, Sept. 23.—Firm refusal of Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain to make further concessions to Germany resulted in postponement of his second conversation with Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler at Godesberg today according to belief here.

Chamberlain was especially adamant in connection with the demands of Poland and Hungary for outright annexation of their minority territories in Czechoslovakia.

Conservative circles state Chamberlain told Hitler it would be impossible for Britain to go one inch beyond the Anglo-French plan providing for cession of the purely Germanic areas of the Sudetenland to the Nazis.

These sources insisted that contrary to opposition charges, Chamberlain is not being dominated by Hitler but is maintaining just as stiff an attitude as the Fuehrer.

Have You Read?

"Soft-boned and slack-fibred travelers is an almost photographic description of Henry and me. Particularly me," says Margaret Halsey in her book "With Malice Toward Some," lately received at the library. Mrs. Halsey is the wife of an American teacher and exchange professor at the University of Exeter. She accompanied her husband to England and records with hilarious effect the outstanding joys and embarrassments of that year. She outdoes the Diary of a Provincial Lady in a gay and caustic fashion.

The publishers with a stroke of genius have added drawings of English types and scenes by Peggy Bacon in her inimitable style.

Let people alone and they discover their leader's faults. Start an argument and they make him perfect to justify their loyalty.

P. W. A. Program Is Progressing

Nearly 7,000 Projects Have Been Authorized Under New Program

SEPTEMBER 30 IS DEADLINE SET

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—The backbone of the business recovery drive, the 1938 $1,867,000,000 P. W. A. program, passed its first quarterly period with approximately $1,500,000,000 authorized in construction. Administrator Harold L. Ickes announced today.

Nearly 7,000 projects have been approved with actual construction work started on about 700. The program included $177,000,000 worth of schools, municipal buildings, sewers, waterworks, roads, bridges and similar improvements designed to revive the heavy industries.

More than 5,500 municipal improvement projects have been approved, and approximately 1,000 projects have been authorized for the various federal departments. Total allotments of approximately $628,000,000 have been made to the federal projects and approximately $1,850,000,000 has been turned over to federal department undertakings. These amounts, together with funds to be advanced by applicants, call for about $1,500,000,000 in construction costs.

"The aims of the 1938 PWA act are being achieved in a most gratifying manner," Ickes said. Congress set Sept. 30 as the deadline for making new project applications and Jan. 1 as the date on which actual construction must be started on approved projects.

State A. F. Of L. For Democrats

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Sept. 23.—In a move of great political importance the state A. F. of L. today lined up with the O. I. O. behind the entire Democratic ticket, including Gov. George H. Earle for U. S. senator, and thus placed the full force of labor's organized vote behind the Democratic party.

In announcing its endorsement of Governor Earle for U. S. senator, along with the other Democratic candidates, the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor broke with William Green, national A. F. of L. president, who had demanded that the federation endorse U. S. Senator James J. Davis, Earle's Republican opponent, who is seeking re-election.

Balkan Countries

Will Resist Any

Hitler Aggression

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—The Balkan countries will offer "stiff resistance" to any attempt by Chancellor Hitler to annex them, Demetrios Sicilianos, the Greek minister, declared today.

Sicilianos called on Secretary of State Hull and made an $87,000 annual payment of the 40 per cent amount due on America's wheat loan to Greece.

Afterwards he predicted, in a conversation with newspaper men, that Hitler's path of conquest to the east beyond Czechoslovakia will not be so easy.

"The Balkans are united in opposition to German expansion to the east. If Chancellor Hitler thinks he can march through the east he will find that the Balkan countries will give him stiff resistance."

Sicilianos predicted a new war in Europe would lead to barbarism. "Europe is going crazy," he said. "It is going down and down in the scare of civilization and if a new war comes it will end in barbarism."

How 42 Police Officers Now In City Employ Are Assigned To Work

Some years ago there were 49 policemen on the city payroll but, at present, there are only 42 regularly employed. The drop from 49 to 42 was caused by various reasons over a period of 10 years.

In the days when 48 were employed the officers patrolled on foot. They worked long shifts. Later they went on eight hours turns and the law now gives them one day of rest each week.

During the days when 48 were employed there were no cruiser cars in service. Two cars are now in operation on two turns and usually there are two men in each car. A third car is kept in reserve.

According to police statistics one policeman is required for every 1,000 population in industrial cities, such as is New Castle. This being the rate the department now is below this ratio.

A News reporter yesterday obtained from Chief of Police Ralph A. Griswell some data concerning the operation of the police department.

The name of each officer, rank, hours of duty, place of duty and his day of rest follows:

Police Organization
Ralph A. Griswell, chief of police, 8 a. m. to 4 p. m.; chief's office; entitled to day off but seldom takes the privilege.

Ray Showalter, lieutenant of police in charge of detective bureau; fingerprint man and police photographer; 8 a. m. to 4 p. m.; subject to call; Thursday.

George S. Kennedy and Cecil Suber, lieutenants of police; alternate on midnight to 8 a. m. and 4 p. m. to midnight turns; they direct the police on their respective turns. Kennedy is off duty Sunday and Suber off duty Tuesday.

Minnie P. McKibben, police-woman; daylight turn, subject to call at night; off duty, Sunday.

Marion J. Young, Gever C. Syling, James P. Steiner and Wayne Sines, desk sergeants at headquarters. There are three turns. They alternate. When either is off duty Sines is their relief man. He is also the radio technician. Each must have a license to broadcast over the police radio. Young is off duty on Friday; Syling, Wednesday; Steiner, Monday and Sines, Sunday.

8 A. M. To 4 P. M. Turn
Carl Wallace, relief patrolman and driver; off Monday.

Frank Reynolds, patrolman, Seventh ward; off Tuesday.

Thomas Lynch, patrolman, Fifth and Eighth wards; off Wednesday.

John Moore, patrolman, East Washington street and East Side; off Thursday.

William Alliger, patrolman, First ward; off Friday.

William Tyndall, patrolman, City hall vicinity; off Sunday.

George Sigler, patrolman, aids in directing street and school traffic; off Sunday.

Thomas Jones, traffic supervisor; off Sunday.

John Young, investigator in the detective bureau; off Sunday.

The other officers alternate on 4 p. m. to midnight and midnight to 8 a. m. turns as follows:

Night Patrolmen
John Winick, patrolman, First ward; off Monday.

Harry Reese, patrolman, City hall vicinity; off Tuesday.

H. E. Richards, patrolman, East Side; off Wednesday.

Dent Shields, relief patrolman; off Thursday.

Carl Lockard, patrolman, Seventh ward; off Sunday.

George Price, relief rider and cruiser car driver; off Monday.

Bud Flegger, patrolman, Fifth and Eighth wards; off Friday.

Thomas Farrow, patrolman, Fifth and Eighth wards; off Tuesday.

William Smith, patrolman, City hall vicinity; off Monday.

Dan Williams, patrolman, First ward; off Tuesday.

Willis McMullen, patrolman, East Side; off Wednesday.

Walter Tewell, patrolman, Fifth and Eighth wards; off Thursday.

William Shaner, relief patrolman; off Friday.

James Hagan, patrolman, Seventh ward; off Sunday.

Jack Thompson, relief rider and cruiser car driver; off Monday.

Cruiser car drivers alternate every eight hours. Two cars are kept in operation during the 4 p. m. to midnight and midnight to 8 a. m. turns. A third car for lieutenants and detectives is kept at police headquarters; likewise the patrol.

The Drivers
John Golis, No. 1 car; off Wednesday.

H. L. Richards, No. 2 car; off Thursday.

Robert Hanna, No. 1 car; off Friday.

Peter Hillers, No. 2 car; off Sunday.

Harry Pfanner, No. 1 car; off Tuesday.

Ray Richards, No. 2 car; off Wednesday.

Each cruiser car has a rider. However, only one man is regularly assigned as a rider. He is David Nelson, and is off duty Thursday.

The riders alternate only on the 4 p. m. to midnight and midnight to 8 a. m. turns. It is necessary to take three men from other points for riders.

U. G. Harper and D. J. Thomas alternate as patrol wagon drivers on the 4 p. m. to midnight and midnight to 8 a. m. shifts. Harper is off duty Tuesday and Thomas on Wednesday.

The temporary men now on the force are John Winick, Arthur Leslie, George Rigby, Edward Kovach and Thomas J. Boyles. They are taking the places of officers Dent Shields, William Smith, Thomas Farrow and Clarence Welsh, who are in training school. Welsh had no regular patrol. He worked as a relief man. At present 38 regular men are actually on the job and five are working as temporary police.

Because of the law that requires one day of rest in every seven for each officer, there are seven officers off duty every day excepting Saturday when all police must work unless ill.

This, added to the number of men assigned to desk duty or radio cruiser car work explains why police now are not seen in as many places as when the city had 48 police on long shifts and on foot patrol.

In addition to this the dayturn police are required to go to several school zones and protect children crossing streets.

WILL MISS SCHOOL BELLS
(International News Service)

FREMONT, O.—School bells will sound an empty tone for Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Weise this fall. For the first time in 38 years the couple, parents of 10 children, will have no children in school. The youngest was graduated from high school in June.

Workers Can Learn Amount
Credited To Account
During 1937

POSTCARDS ARE PROVIDED FOR USE

By ARTHUR C. WISER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 23.—Pennsylvania field offices of the Social Security board have been supplied with postcards to be used by workers desiring to learn the amount of wages credited to their old-age insurance accounts for 1937, that agency announced today.

The board said any worker with an account number may now ascertain the total of 1937 wages reported by his employer and credited to him last year. For the convenience of those wanting such a statement, the board has prepared and sent to its field offices a special postcard. The card requires a one cent stamp and should be mailed to the Social Security Board, Chandler Building, Baltimore, Md.

Space is left on the card for the wage earner to write his name, account number and address. A second type of card has been made available to field offices for workers who believe they were not credited with the full amount of their 1937 wages. On this form the worker is asked to list each employer from whom he received wages, how long he was employed by each, and the wages he received.

The board says applications for information by use of these cards can be handled more rapidly than requests by letter.

Opposes Public Hearings In Senate Probe Of Monopolies

Senator King Forfees Danger

Grave Injury To Business
Would Result Declares
Utah Senator

COMMITTEE SPLIT SEEN ON ISSUE

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Fearful of grave injury to business, Senator William H. King (D) of Utah, member of the senate monopoly investigating committee, said today he will oppose public hearings for the committee, except where clearly necessary to obtain facts on which to base legislation.

Possibility of a committee split on this issue was seen. Senator O'Mahoney (D) of Wyoming, chairman of the committee set up by the last congress, insisted that public hearings will be necessary. Tentative plans call for hearings to be opened before the January session of congress. They may be opened next month.

"We want to gather all the facts available," said King. "I am opposed to public hearings, unless there is a compelling reason to hold them. I do not think, at this time, that they are necessary to obtain information on which to consider legislation."

O'Mahoney, who has denied intimations that the committee might engage in a "witch hunt," said that hearings are necessary to present the facts gathered by the committee.

To Present All of Facts

"The only purpose of hearings will be to present all facts of this complicated problem so that the country can see," said O'Mahoney. "Whatever solution is reached, I hope it will be one that will take into government, business, labor and consumer. It is my purpose to recommend that representatives of industry sit in with the committee and listen to testimony so that industry will have first hand benefit of everything we develop. We will be glad to get constructive suggestions."

O'Mahoney, King and Leon Henderson, committee secretary, conferred with representatives of the National Association of Manufacturers on the scope of the committee's work. The association was represented by President Charles R. Hook of Middletown, O.; W. E. Warner of New York, chairman of the executive committee; Walter Weisenburger of New York, executive vice-president; James A. Emery, general counsel; and Walter Chamberlain, director of the National Industrial Council.

"They came up to find out whether we really would have an objective study," said O'Mahoney. "They expressed a desire and intention to cooperate in the promotion of jobs in industry. We agreed that is the fundamental, practical objective."

Regularization of employment will also be considered, O'Mahoney said. A huge corps of experts from government departments is now examining books and records of many insurance companies, banks, railroads and other business institutions in preparation for committee hearings or consideration.

AID SOCIETY HAS REGULAR MEETING

Mrs. Walter Wilkins, Oakwood avenue, was a pleasant hostess to the members of the Ladies Aid Society of the Madison Avenue Christian church, when they gathered in her home, recently for a regular meeting.

The event was in the form of a buffet luncheon. This was the first fall meeting of the group and there was a good attendance present. Vice president, Mrs. Adda Robinson, was in charge of the business session.

Plans for a supper meeting on November 15, were made by the group. This meeting will be in the church dining room.

Property surrounding the Seventh Ward Progressive club rooms, 115 Montgomery avenue, is being beautified and plans have been made to plant flowers and shrubbery at the site next spring.

Screen doors and porch swings have been removed from numerous homes in the district, another item which points to the fact that winter is near at hand.

Warns Against Business Control By Government

Trade And Industrial Leaders Warned Not To Allow Government Control

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 23.—Trade and industrial leaders, were urged today to fight for all their worth to prevent further governmental control over business at the American Trade Association convention here.

"Many of these social reformists have jumped to the erroneous conclusion that business and the people are arrayed against each other," said Col. Willard Chevalier, New York publisher.

"This conclusion has given growth to the rampant theory that all business must surrender to governmental control."

Warning Sounded.

Harry Melick, manager of the legislative department of the American Manufacturers association, warned delegates that they must expect a flood of legislation during 1939 when the general assemblies of 44 states will convene.

"The theory that government should interfere in business is catching hold like a virulent disease in the commonwealths," he said. "This is a day when the feeling is abroad that social and economic ills must be cured by governmental edict."

Other speakers also scored governmental reforms.

(International News Service)
SHARPSVILLE, Pa., Sept. 23.—A sharp blast to industrial operations in the Shenango valley was expected to result today from the lighting of the blast furnace at the Shenango Furnace company plan in Sharpsville.

The furnace has been out of operation for the past nine months. During the last eight weeks the plant's cupola has been in operation to handle orders and to use all available iron, it was reported, and a 60 per cent schedule was maintained in the foundry department.

Margiotti Tells Of Truck 'Deal'

Testifies As To Statements Made To Him By Arthur Colgrove.

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Sept. 23.—Former Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti today quoted Arthur Colgrove as telling him that when he was secretary of property and supplies, Secretary of the Commonwealth David L. Lawrence and Matthew H. McCloskey Jr., wealthy contractor and Democratic leader, asked him to put through a purchase "deal" on trucks for which the Democratic party would receive a $50,000 campaign contribution.

Continuing his verbal assaults on the Erie administration, the former cabinet official who was dismissed by the governor during the bitter Democratic primary quoted

Colgrove, who is now public utility commissioner, indirectly as follows: "He said McCloskey and Lawrence insisted he put the deal through and told him if the deal went through there would be $50,000 contributed to the state committee for campaign purposes."

Margiotti said the conversation between Colgrove and himself took place in Margiotti's justice department office. Colgrove came to him, he said, and said he wanted to talk to him in private.

Battle With Snakes Fails To Save Frog

Charles Strickler of Raymond street was out fishing recently in a pond at the quarry on Cascade street, near the cement plant.

On hearing a bull frog continuously croaking, it being day time, he became curious, and threw a few stones into the rushes near the direction of the noise. Still the croaking continued. He went over and searched, and found a snake in the rushes, which crawled under a stone, and taking a larger stone, Mr. Strickler brought it down with much force upon the stone under which was the snake, killing it. The croaking did not cease.

On further search, he discovered another snake, possibly a mate of the other, holding a half grown bull frog by the leg, with its whole length down the snake's throat.

Mr. Strickler put a larger hook on his line, and proceeded to hook the snake. The rushes protruding from the water made this hard to do, but he finally hooked the snake under the jaw and brought it to the bank, still hanging on to the frog's leg.

He tapped the snake lightly with the rod, and it would squat on the ground, and make itself as flat as if a wagon had run over it. Then it would arise, throw its head back and strike at the rod. He struck it hard, about the middle of the back, and the reptile, letting go the frog, and possibly missing the rod, sank its fangs in its own body, and drawing away, making a noise like tearing cloth. Mr. Strickler soon killed it.

The snake was unlike the water snake, or a moccasin. It was about three feet long, a dark yellowish color, with blunt tail.

Next day Mr. Strickler went back to the pond and found the frog dead, within a foot of the water. On examination of the leg he discovered that it just had a small abrasion, and concluded it died from the poison from the snake bite.

Mr. Strickler does much trapping of fur animals and fishing throughout the year.

Shift Magistrate
At Pittsburgh, Pa.

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 23.—Against his own wishes, Magistrate Charles P. Papale moved from the East End district to the Center avenue police station today after objecting to Mayor Cornelius D. Scully's plan of moving police judges during the current racket drive.

One of his first actions was to hold for court an alleged numbers writer, Meyer Segal, 30, in each case, Papale was obeying order. He had to move or face dismissal and recently he and other magistrates had been scolded by the mayor for leniency with numbers suspects.

New Armory In Steady Use

Building Proper Is Almost Entirely Completed And
In Service

OUTSIDE GRADING OF SITE REMAINS

Save for a few minor touches, the Joseph V. Cunningham armory in Cascade park is completed, insofar as the construction of the building is concerned. There is a trifling amount of wiring to be done and when this is completed, which should be next week, the armory will be entirely completed, save for the grading and walks outside.

Part of the concrete walks outside the building are being done this week. The grading is a job that will probably have to wait for some time, but even this has been arranged for tentatively.

The troopers are using every part of the armory now. The 25 horses are quartered in the south end of the armory building, with the corral beyond the stables. In the stables are located the leather room, the caretakers room, the grain chute and above the stables the forage room.

In the north end of the building are located the recreational room, locker room, shower room, officers quarters and a supply room. Downstairs in the north end are the dining room, range room and kitchen.

The number of horses in the armory, 25, is less than the troop should have and it is possible this number will be increased at the next exchange of mounts.

Once the grading and walks are completed the Joseph V. Cunningham armory will be one of the finest in the state.

Cooperation By Nations Can Save Peace Of World

Seventh International Congress Of Management Ends Session In Washington

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Pleas for closer cooperation between nations in the elimination of trade barriers as a move to peace brought to its final sessions today the Seventh International Congress of Management.

After nearly a week of deliberations on business problems, the 2,000 delegates heard spokesmen from the United States and other countries join in a demand for better relations between nations.

Secretary of Commerce Roper, representing this government, told the delegates to exercise every possible means to "create an attitude that encourages solidarity among world forces for peace and security."

Are Justified
"All nations are justified in unified support of a common objective—namely the social and economic welfare of their respective nations," Roper said. "This can best be accomplished through cooperation with other nations."

"This congress cannot make a greater contribution to world peace than to project, through cooperative endeavors, a common purpose to rid the world of the causes of strife." Speaking for more than 250 foreign delegates, Viscount Leverhulme, British industrialist, urged the congress to bring about "international cooperation to eliminate 'waste, both human and material in every aspect of our economic life.'"

Flood Peak Of 26 Feet Reached At Springfield

Two Feet Under Mark Of Disastrous Flood Of 1936 In Region

(International News Service) SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Sept. 23.—Raging through an area already stricken by a 100-mile-an-hour hurricane, the Connecticut river reached its flood peak of 26 feet above normal here today.

The level was two feet below the record mark of the disastrous 1936 flood, but the situation remained tense as workers battled to save over-strained dikes protecting low-lying districts.

More than 10,000 families were homeless in Western Massachusetts, some towns, including Lee, Barre and Gilberville were isolated by flood waters and washed out roads. Food shortages threatened many towns and threat of disease arose as the danger of drinking water pollution spread. Typhoid vaccine was sent into the area from Boston. In Ware and other places it was dropped by plane.

Hundreds of WPA workers and volunteers worked day and night in an effort to save the huge West Springfield dam, where a leak in one section had widened to 30 feet. If the dam breaks, a large section of the city would be wiped out.

Babson Is Convinced No European War To Develop This Year

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright 1938—Publishers Finance Bureau.)

NEW YORK CITY, Sept. 23.—For past three months business has been bowing right along. Activity is up 11 per cent from the mid-June bottom.

Every day there is encouraging, cheerful news coming out on this industry and that. Yet I believe that people are more upset and frightened today than when business was at its lowest point in June.

The reason is, of course, the European situation. Newspaper headlines have been screaming war for weeks. Your radio program is interrupted every ten minutes by a "radio press bulletin" playing up some insignificant war news. My position right along has been that there will be no general war in Europe this year, at least.

When you read this column I will be or my way to Germany to get some first-hand information for you. War Bullish On Business.

Our present upswing will be halted by this European situation if business men, radio broadcasters and the press are not careful. Business is like a machine. It takes a lot of power to get it rolling. Once it is rolling, however, it builds up its own momentum. The sensational treatment of the European crisis is putting a brake on business recovery. Consumers are naturally holding back on their shopping and business men stalling on their buying.

However, my belief is that whatever happens people are worrying unnecessarily. Even if there is a war, it may help, not hurt, American business. If the European powers try to one another's throats, the demand for food, clothing, munitions and machinery will be tremendous. To know what will happen we only have to look back a quarter century to the World War.

Most of my readers remember that we had a "prosperity" never before known in the United States from 1915-1919.

What Happened in 1914? The opening going for the last war was sounded on July 28, 1914, when Austria knocked the chip off Serbia's shoulder. The New York stock market immediately crashed. Prices hurtled downward in one of the sharpest breaks in history. The exchange was promptly closed from July 31 to December 12. However, during the 12 months after the market reopened, there was a constant increase in security prices. Many issues doubled and tripled.

Business activity also bogged down immediately after the declaration of war, but only for a short time. Beginning in November, 1914, a sharp upswing got under way and carried through the summer of 1918. At the extreme peak in May, 1917, activity was 55 per cent higher than it was when the Germans crossed the Belgian border. This was an all-time record for American business.

War Brought Inflation. Of course, not all stocks galloped to new highs during the war period because the profit margins of certain industries were drastically slashed. Commodity prices jumped 140 per cent. We had a real dose of inflation. Copper soared from 14 cents to 30 cents a pound. Flour skyrocketed from $4.50 to $12.50 a barrel. Sugar leaped from 5 cents to 16 cents per pound. Labor also was in great demand. Wage scales in many industries doubled. Taxes, too, were drastic. As a result, the cost of doing business, as well as the cost of living, touched the highest peaks we had ever known.

Those companies, therefore, which could not increase the selling price of their products were squeezed. They had to pay more for their materials, labor and taxes; but they could not charge more for the goods they made or the services they rendered.

dered. Railroads and utilities were especially hurt by this inflation. However, most businesses made barrels of money out of the war. As a matter of fact, our prominence as the world's leading business country dates from 1914.

Pattern Would Be Repeated.

If war should start tomorrow, I think that a similar pattern would be repeated. There would not be so much foreign selling of securities as in 1914. The amount of foreign capital invested in our securities is about the same; but America is considered a safer haven for money now than it was a quarter century ago. Nevertheless, there would probably be a sharp drop in our prices due to speculative selling. The security exchanges might even be closed again. Not everyone, however, agrees with these conclusions.

Some investors, for instance, feel that the government would make this a "profitless war" in an effort to keep the United States neutral. I doubt if this can be done effectively. Other observers cannot understand how European powers can pay us for our goods. They, however, can pay us. But leaving foreign demands entirely out of the picture, war in Europe would produce a period of feverish rearmament here in North America. After the first flurry of selling, I believe that security prices and business would come back with a bang.

War Means Inflation.

The most far-reaching result of a general European war now, however, would be a world-wide inflation. I do not think that the currency of any country could withstand the ravages of a big war. For ten years, every major power has been borrowing more than it could pay back. If to the normal demands of peacetime, the abnormal demands of war are added, the reckoning must come. I believe that the United States would be caught in this inflation mesh. But even inflation brings a business boom in its early stages.

Aside from the war situation, the fall outlook for business is good. We have already recovered 25 per cent of last year's losses in the face of gloomy and depressive news. If you are not discouraged by front page headlines, you can find cheerful and optimistic business reports every day in the inside pages of your paper. Hence, my advice to business men and workers is: Forget front page scareheads and pay more attention to your own business and your own jobs!

Not that it means a great deal to New Castle folks, at least as far as their own individual clocks are concerned, but the fact remains that Daylight Savings Time will end in the various surrounding communities which have been observing the changed time during the summer, on Sunday morning at 2 o'clock.

This will mean a change in the time of radio schedules, train schedules, and in other communities of working hours.

Local folks won't need to tinker with their clocks before retiring Saturday night, because there was no change in time here this year.

Red Cross Chapter Asked To Take Contributions To Aid Storm Sufferers

TEN THOUSAND ARE HOMELESS

Aid for victims of the terrible storm which has ravaged the New England states this week is sought by the American National Red Cross, who have asked the Lawrence County Chapter here to take contributions to assist the victims made homeless in this current disaster.

Contributors are asked to bring or send their contributions to the office of the Lawrence County Chapter, 17 1/2 South Mercer street. The chapter has offered national headquarters the services of their executive secretary, Miss Margaret F. Bodenstein, who has had considerable experience in disasters, and who worked in the field during the Ohio-Mississippi Valley flood last year.

The Red Cross office will be open on Saturday until noon to receive donations and every week day from 9 until 5 o'clock.

The following telegram asking for funds was received this morning by the chapter:

"Reports received late today from chapters on disaster relief work throughout disaster areas in Long Island and New England indicate 10,000 families homeless as result of yesterday's floods and hurricanes. This number may be materially increased as the waters continue rising in the Connecticut Valley. These people are now dependent upon Red Cross for temporary shelter, food, clothing and medical care. The latest problem is rehabilitation of families unable to care for themselves. Your chapter is authorized to accept any contributions for relief funds."

National Chairman.When the Hurricane Swept Boston

When the hurricane raked Long Island and the New England coast, causing millions in damage and taking nearly two hundred lives, these girls fought against the fury of the wind at South Boston. At the registration of voters held under the direction of Registration Clerk Thomas Edmunds, at Harlansburg on Wednesday, the registration showed 11 Republicans, 3 Democrats and 2 Prohibitionists. Another registration will be held at Harlansburg on September 30.

In the case of William B. and Johanna Boyles against Herbert S. Vanater, Sheriff M. M. Ingham has served papers in a writ of possession for a property located in Union township.

Tabulation of the voters registered at the office of Alderman Brice in this city, during the two registration days, has been made by Registration Clerk Thomas Edmunds. It shows 96 Republicans and 61 Democrats. There were also a number of voters who changed their places of residence, and party affiliations.

Suit has been filed at the prothonotary's office by the Wayne Lumber company against Joseph W. Humphrey, executor of the will of John DePaul, deceased, and Mary E. DePaul, sole legatee, for $933.16. The bill is for materials furnished to decedent during his lifetime.

The names of jurors who were summoned for quarter sessions court next week, and who have been notified that their services are not wanted, will be placed back in the jury wheel, and will likely be drawn out at some future time.

A couple from Ohio appeared at the marriage license bureau yesterday to take out a license, but were turned down by Prothonotary John A. Edgar of the three-day waiting period. They said they wanted to be married right away. There is no way that this can be done, except through an order of court, and they did not wish to go to that trouble. They left, saying that they would go to some other state where they could be married at once.

Sheriff Ingham has served papers in a petition for partition of the property of the late Jennie E. Noggle. Those interested in the estate are directed to appear at court on the third Monday of October to accept or refuse property at the appraisement. The property is located on Ray street and was appraised at $950. If none of the heirs want it the property will be sold and a division made of the proceeds.

Registration of voters is being held at Mt. Jackson today. Other registrations scheduled are: Wurttemberg, September 26, at the building of H. H. Newton; Wampum, September 27, at the borough building; Princeton, Odd Fellows hall, September 28 and Ellwood City, at the city building, September 29.

Resignations of election board officials have been presented to court as follows: Mary Elizabeth Fee, inspector in the first district of the first ward; Samuel Jones, inspector in the third district of Shenango township; M. M. St. Clair, inspector in the second district of Perry township; John C. Mattinger, inspector in the first district of Union township. B. F. Sholler, inspector in second district of Washington township, was reported dead. Judge W. Walter Braham made an order directing the sheriff to post notices of the vacancies at the different election precincts. The vacancies will be filled by appointment on September 29.

Tipstaves at the court house had their troubles during the session of court just closed. Tipstaff H. R. Marshimer was ill at his home and could not be present. Tipstaff T. J. Hinkson fell down the cellar stairs at his residence in the Groton district and sustained an injured leg. He worked each day but had to use a cane to get around. Tipstaff William Cole of Ellwood City stood guard at the main door of court room No. 2 with his arm in a sling, due to an abscess. He was out each day but was in much distress. Tipstaff Jack Eberle started off with a severe cold, but managed to hold out during the session. Tipstaff W. J. Chalmers proved the strong man of the outfit. He was apparently well and hearty and finished in high gear.

Pardon Board Takes Action

Delay Execution Of Senauskas And Polens, Commute Sentence Of Cesare Della Valle

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Sept. 23.—Joe Senauskas and John G. Polens, "ri-angler" slayers of a Youngville innkeeper, today were relieved from death's door when the state board of pardons recommended that their execution slated for Sunday night be delayed. They will be reviewed by the governor and their case heard again at the October 18-19 session of the pardon board.

To Cesare Della Valle, Philadelphia slayer of Augustina Massari, 16, the threat of death in the electric chair was forever lifted when the board commuted his death sentence to life. He was scheduled to die October 3.

The pardon board also recommended a respite for Antonio Perone, Northumberland slayer of his wife and father-in-law in a family quarrel. Perone was scheduled to die October 3.

But for Fred Holland Mitchell, Somerset slayer of his benefactor's wife, there was no mercy, the pardon board refusing his plea for commutation of his death sentence, scheduled to be carried out October 10.

Polens and Senauskas were convicted of slaying Metro Semruk, the one for money, the other because of a clandestine affair with the victim's wife.

Mrs. Semruk was convicted of complicity in the murder, but received a short term in the Industrial Home for Women at Muncy and shortly thereafter went free.

Utopian ideas are dangerous. Convince people that one will work and they follow anybody who offers a crazier one.

The New HIGH-TEST OXYDOL

Remarkable new ingredient now added to America's most improved laundry soap, enables it to do these amazing things in scientific tests against old-fashioned bar and package soaps:—

1—GIVES WHITEST WASHES EVER

up to 15% whiter by scientific Tintometer tests

2—MAKES UP TO TWICE THE SUDS

that stand up 2 to 3 times longer, even in hard water

3—COLORS STAY TRULY BRIGHT

in hard or soft water, wash after wash

SOAP'S GREATEST ADVANCE

in whiter washing with safety

NOW—the laundry soap of tomorrow brought to you today! For High-Test OXYDOL contains a remarkable new soap ingredient that makes it wash clothes up to 15% whiter, as proved by scientific Tintometer tests. Not only whiter than old Oxydol—but as much as 15% whiter than old-fashioned bar and package soaps.

In addition, you'll find that High-Test Oxydol makes up to TWICE THE SUDS, cup for cup, than less modern soaps. Richer, livelier suds that stand up 2 to 3 times longer.

Saves Time—Saves Clothes

High-Test Oxydol is extremely rapid in action—soaks dirt loose in as little as 10 minutes, without scrubbing or boiling. Ends those hours of rubbing with old-fashioned soaps that shorten the life of your clothes. Clothes actually last 2 to 3 times as long from the standpoint of "washday wear and tear," compared to clothes washed by old-fashioned ways.

Colors Stay Fresh—Bright

But these things alone were not enough—women demanded utmost color safety, too. And this amazing High-Test Oxydol has passed every test for safety to washable colors. For instance—crisp, colored prints washed 175 consecutive times showed no perceptible sign of fading. Thus, wash after wash, you will find colored things stay fresh and bright... in hard water, even.

New High-Test Oxydol is now on sale at all dealers in the familiar orange and blue bull's-eye package. (No change in the box—the difference is in the soap.)

In your own interest—for whiter, brighter washes than you ever dreamed possible, with less modern soaps—try new High-Test OXYDOL. We guarantee that you'll be thrilled as you've never been thrilled with any soap before!... get a package today! Procter &amp; Gamble.

MORE SUDS MEANS BETTER DISHWASHING, TOO

IT GOES FARTHER, TOO

High-Test Oxydol

Old-style Package Soap

Cup for cup, one package of new High-Test OXYDOL goes as far as one and one-fourth packages of old-style soap—does 24% MORE WORK! This saves money, as well as time and clothes.

GETS CLOTHES UP TO 15% WHITER

High-Test OXYDOL contains an amazing new ingredient that soap chemists have been working on for years. A new ingredient that increases white-washing powers to a truly astonishing degree. Scientific tests proved that High-Test OXYDOL washed white clothes shades whiter—actually as much as 15% whiter than old-fashioned package soaps tested. Yes! You'll find it really itself for washable colors, fabrics and hands.

CLOTHES LAST 2 TO 3 TIMES LONGER—THERE'S SO MUCH LESS WEAR AND TEAR!

High-Test Oxydol soaks dirt loose in as little as 10 minutes. Thus ends the washboard scrubbing that shortens the life of your clothes. On the left a brand-new sheet (highly magnified) washed 84 times with old-fashioned soap. Note fraying in weave, due to "harsh action" and scrubbing. On the right a similar sheet washed 84 times the scrubless OXYDOL way. Note the perfect alignment of the threads.

CLOTHES LAST LONGER!

High-Test OXYDOL is amazingly safe for washable colors. Even in hard water, you will find colored things stay fresh and bright, wash after wash. Note the two color swatches shown at left. One the original piece—the other a piece from the same garment after 175 OXYDOL washings. No perceptible color fading after 175 consecutive washings. Think of it!—No perceptible sign of fading after more than three years' normal washing. Try it and see for yourself.

Chest Helps Y.M.C.A. To Continue Program

Editor's Note: This is the fourth of a series of articles to familiarize the public with the activities of various local agencies assisted by the New Castle Community Chest.

Many of New Castle's leaders today can point to the Young Men's Christian Association and the environment which it afforded when they were boys, to their success in their chosen professions.

The "Y" as it is popularly known, is one of the character building agencies aided by the annual Community Chest drive in New Castle, and one toward which Chest officials point with pride in view of its fine accomplishments.

During its more than half a century in New Castle, tens of thousands of men and boys have participated in its wide range of activities. Last year alone more than 2,000 youngsters and grownups took part in its program.

For more than 18 years, Robert L. Meermans has been general secretary of the New Castle "Y" and he has set a standard which other cities, many times larger than New Castle, have striven to emulate.

But he modestly passes the credit for whatever success he has attained to the Community Chest and the various chairmen for the annual drives.

In outlining the organization's activities for the coming year, to M. D. Cohn, publicity chairman for this year's drive, today, Meermans said: "While we are proud of our accomplishments we realize that they are made possible only because of the philanthropy of New Castle residents and the leadership of the men associated with the Community Chest."

Near Self-Supporting "Our organization is self-supporting excepting for leadership and supervision and we must look to the Community Chest for this assistance."

The Y. M. C. A. has a wide range of activities all dedicated to developing men and boys, physically, mentally, socially and spiritually. The boys' program is entirely separate from the men's activities.

Placing all facilities of the "Y" at the disposal of each boy costs between $18 and $23 per year. Yet the boy is required to pay but from $3 to $6 annual fee. It is this deficit that the Community Chest appropriation takes up. More than 600 boys were included in the Membership Service Group last year.

In addition, there are 600 boys included in the Community Service Group which comprises eight Hi-Y and 14 Gra-Y groups of boys from high and grade schools in the city. Then there are the community groups which include newsboys, the Soto street club and the Croton club. There are 200 boys in these clubs.

Boys in these two classifications are not required to pay any membership fees and they are made use of all facilities, including the swimming pool and gymnasium.

Listed among "Y" activities are: basketball, forty teams in the various leagues; league volleyball, hand ball tournaments, swimming, wrestling, gym classes, badminton, ping pong, chess, table tennis, checkers, hobby school and clubs etc. Each summer a "Learn to Swim" campaign is conducted when boys are taught to swim free of charge by competent instructors.

Fred L. Rantz Camp Outstanding on the "Y's" Summer program is the Fred L. Rantz camp, conducted for five weeks for boys between 8 and 16. During the past summer, 331 boys were employed at the camp with 157 boys participating. Of this number, 69 boys were sent to the camp without charge, they having been selected for their worthiness to participate. Meermans points out that this camp would be impossible were it not for the money appropriated to the Y. M. C. A. by the Community Chest.

Since it was chartered in 1895, New Castle's Y. M. C. A. has always been a credit to the community. Its program is dedicated toward promoting good fellowship and four-square dealing, socially and in sports. The boys are taught that playing the game is what really counts and that just winning does not make for success.

The character building program helps young men and boys to direct their lives into worthwhile channels.

New Castle is among the many moderate-sized cities in America which maintains such a splendid Y. M. C. A. Continuation of its fine work depends largely upon the continuation of the generosity of the New Castle citizens toward their Community Chest. Generous donations are one way of showing appreciation for the "Y."

Report Dikes Are Holding

Connecticut River Has Reached Stage Of 36 Feet Today

ARMY OF MEN WORKS ON DIKES

(International News Service) HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 23.—With the Connecticut river gauge reading 36 feet at the city datum in Hartford, 1,500 men working without rest, appeared to be winning a battle against the relentless forces of nature today when it was reported the Clark and Colt dikes, holding millions of gallons of threatening water, were holding.

In the immediate path of the threatening waters was the famous Colt Patent Firearms plant, which would be seriously inundated if the water burst through the dikes. Power was shut off in the plant and hundreds of emergency workers were erecting flood barricades within the walls of the plant.

The weatherman forecast cloudy weather for today as overcast skies unleashed intermittent rain on an already drenched city. Rising at the rate of one-tenth of a foot an hour, the Connecticut was expected to reach a crest of 36 feet some time between eleven and twelve o'clock today, according to an announcement from the mayor's emergency committee.

Fifteen hundred homeless persons were being fed at emergency kitchens.

More than 3,000 persons were evacuated from the south and while the east side of Hartford, for a distance of three miles along the Connecticut, was under water.

The back wash from the Park river, which courses through the center of the city, threatened to halt traffic in the area and also near the railroad station, cutting West Hartford off from the capital.

PUP "TAKES IT ON THE CHIN" TO SAVE MASTER

(International News Service)
SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 14.—

literally "took it on the chin" to save his master from possible death. The dog and 16-year-old Joe Graham, his master, were romping over nearby foothills when they unexpectedly came upon a rattlesnake. The reptile coiled. It hissed. As it sprang to strike at young Graham, a four-year-old bull terrier,

And the rattler's fangs sunk into the jaw of the dog. His head swollen to almost twice normal size, Tiny was rushed to a veterinarian, who gave the pet repeated serum treatments for the poisonous bite. Today Tiny was fully recovered.

David: Triumphant Faith

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

Psalm 23:1—"The Lord is my Shepherd; I shall not want."

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Sept. 25 is Psalms 23 and 27, the Golden Text being Psalm 23:1. "The Lord is my Shepherd; I shall not want.")

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL
The favorite Bible chapter of most folk is doubtless Psalm 23, the "Shepherd Psalm," the "Nightingale of the Psalms," the sweetest song ever sung. Had David, the shepherd king, done nothing but write this shepherd psalm, he would have endeared himself to every age for the past 3,000 years. One Bible analyst has found in it three pictures of what God wants to see in every one of us, "his children, viz.: "A Saviour Knowing Child of God," verse 1; "An Ever Growing Child of Grace," verses 2-4, and "An Overflowing Child of Gladness," verses 5, 6.

It Is So Personal
It is so precious to us because it is so personal. In its six brief verses are 17 personal pronouns, in every one of which the believer may, if he will, write his own name by faith: "The Lord is MY shepherd; I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures; he leadeth me beside the still waters. He restoreth my soul; he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness," etc. It is so personal I may make it my prayer to tell God what he means to me, or I may make it my creed to tell the world what the "Good Shepherd of my soul is to me. Here is personal care and loving providence for me, food and sustenance for body and soul, forgiveness of sin in the past and preservation from temptation in the future: "he restoreth my soul; he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness." Here is assurance of answer to our prayer, "Forgive us our trespasses, and lead us not into temptation." As Franklin's kite brought the lightning down from the heavens to the jar and the key, these personal pronouns bring the very essence of religion down from heaven to supply our deepest spiritual needs.

It Is So Precious
This is our favorite chapter, because that which it makes so personal is so precious. God's loving providence, his guidance, his forgiving grace and keeping power, his presence and comfort even in the experience of death, the defense of his rod, the grace of his staff, his hospitality in the life beyond death in "the house of the Lord," which the Good Shepherd himself has pictured as "my Father's house of many mansions and a place prepared for him; us; the fellowship of his table, the welcome of his anointing and the overflowing gladness of it all, these and much more are the precious promises made personal in the song:

Report Hitler Makes Claims

Assert Chamberlain Told Germany Can Defeat Britain-France

GERMANY READY FOR EVENTUALITIES

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1938)

LONDON, Sept. 23.—Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler has bluntly informed Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain that Germany can defeat both Great Britain and France if war comes. It was reported in reliable diplomatic quarters today as a sudden hitch developed in the Anglo-German conversations at Godesberg.

Hitler's defiant warning was delivered in reply to Chamberlain's remonstrances over Germany's demand for virtually complete dismemberment of Czechoslovakia.

Chamberlain informed the Fuehrer that his attitude was serving once again to threaten the peace of Europe. Hitler, the diplomatic reports said, replied coolly and forcibly that if war did come, Germany had nothing to fear from Britain and France combined.

Although indicating the extreme gravity of the situation, it was understood Hitler's boast was not directly responsible for postponement of today's talks at Godesberg on the Rhine.

Angered by Chamberlain's repeated references to the danger of Britain and France being drawn in if Germany should precipitate a conflict in Czechoslovakia, the Fuehrer was reported to have said in effect: "Germany is ready for any eventualities. We are not afraid of you or France. We can beat you both."

Business Shows Good Increase

Department Store Gains Averaged About 19 Per Cent Of Preceding Week

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 23.—The largest single increase for any one week of business this year was recorded for the tri-state area today by the Bureau of Business Research, University of Pittsburgh.

The Bureau's general index of business activity rose from 69.8 per cent of the 1923-25 average in the preceding week to 73.1 last week. An increase of 3.5 per cent. The index still remains far below the level of a year ago, however when it stood at 119.7, the Bureau reported.

Department store gains averaged about 19 per cent of the preceding week, according to the Bureau's figures, but most of the gain was felt to be due to seasonal factors.

The chief advances were registered by electric power production, rail shipments of iron and steel, river traffic and new motor car sales, the Bureau stated.

The Bureau's index for the steel industry as a whole was 50.8 last week as against 48.5 a week earlier, an increase of 2.3.

—BUY IN NEW CASTLE—
(International News Service)
SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 14.—The landscape gardening "class" of the College of Agriculture at Davis, is up in arms.

And members have been joined in their grudge against college professors by students of the poultry husbandry classes.

Here's why: The gardening class is spending half days hoeing weeds while the poultry students separate alfalfa leaves from stems for use in a professor's experiment.

Commented the College's official student paper: "From many countries, by air, rail and water, students come to enroll in the College of Agriculture. Surely these monotonous jobs could be learned just as efficiently in their homeland."

Brown Moths Are Alabama Pests Says State Entomologist

No Damage Expected To Result Here From Recent Insect Invasion, However

According to State Entomologist L. E. Dills, who visited the office of the Lawrence County Agricultural Extension Association here today, the brown moths, which descended on the city early in the week, parking themselves upside-down on lamp posts, trees, windows, and walls are one stage in the life-cycle of the Alabama Argillacea, or cotton worm.

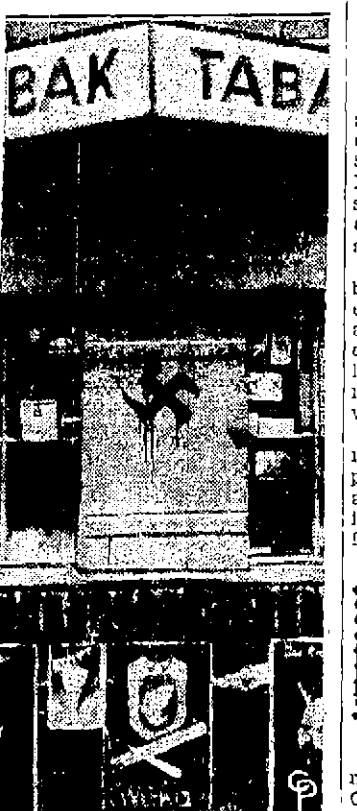

Next to the boll weevil, Mr. Dills states, the moths are the most destructive pest residents of Alabama and Gulf states have to contend with. They attack forage crops, such as cow peas, etc., and completely strip the leaves from vegetation.

The moth sometimes migrates to the northern states and have been found as far north as Canada, but they will not winter north of the Gulf states.

The migration here is not expected to result in damage to local crops in the future, it is stated.

...let others BOIL!

WHEN you buy "Eveready" "Prestone" anti-freeze, you buy all winter protection for your car. "Prestone" anti-freeze is more than just anti-freeze.

Most any other kind of anti-freeze will guard against freezing... until it boils away. But "Prestone" anti-freeze protects your car against engine heat... the thief that steals volatile anti-freeze.

Have fun this winter. Cut driving worries. Protect your family, as well as yourself, from freeze-up caused by boil-away. Smile with "Prestone" anti-freeze... let others boil!

YEAR AFTER YEAR, more and more "Prestone" anti-freeze has been made and sold, yet demand has outrun production. This winter, we expect there will be enough for everyone, for early in the year tremendous new production facilities went into full-time operation. Still, to be sure, get yours EARLY!

'You Can Speed Business,' Stanley Tells Salespeople 'At Merchandising Clinic'

"The retail sales person forms the human equation between the commodity and the consumer, and he can accelerate the flow of merchandise into the consumer's hands or he can throw a log jam across the bottle neck of industry," Henry W. Stanley, trade extension manager of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce and one of the nation's outstanding trade promotion leaders, told a large audience of New Castle salespeople in the Senior high school last night.

Addressing the first of a series of evening "merchandising clinics" sponsored by leaders of the local "Sales Mean Jobs" crusade, Stanley told the throng of men and women that "the sales person is the keystone in the arch of business" and that "one of the first objectives of the National Salesmen's Crusade is to arouse men and women who sell to the importance of their position in the scheme of things."

Round Introduces Speaker
Louis B. Round, general chairman of the sales crusade forces, presided and introduced the Pittsburgher. He led impromptu pop singing just before Stanley spoke.

Two numbers by The Highlanders, one of the city's prominent quartets, also preceded the address. In the group were Rev. D. L. Ferguson, pastor of Highland U. P. church, Arthur Thomas, Richard E. Johns and Leonard W. Kishner. Judy Sypher was the evening's pianist.

Similar "clinics," at which other prominent sales executives will speak, will follow later. General Chairman Round announced.

Psychology Part Told
Stanley told the group interesting things about sales psychology—told them that it's said that five percent of the people actually think that ten percent copy what those five think, that five percent think they're thinking and that 85 percent of the people have never had an idea. He talked on "mental power" and its importance in selling.

The audience was equally amazed and amused when Stanley turned to figures showing the important role of women in business—he called her

"Her Majesty, the American Purchasing Agent!" Among many things he said that: Women own 70 percent of the nation's private wealth.

Forty-nine percent of the nation's 15,000,000 stockholders are women. Eight out of every ten life insurance policies names a woman as a beneficiary.

Women have $9,139,820,000 on deposit in savings banks—that's 65 percent of the total.

Women buy at least 85 percent of all goods sold at retail—and, incidentally, along that line, they buy 65 percent of men's wear purchased in the nation, and the men wear it!

Another "Sales Mean Jobs" breakfast will take place in The Castle Monday morning, September 26 at 8 o'clock.

In Path Of The Hurricane

The hurricane which came on the heels of torrential rains which had lashed the East Coast for days, hit Long Island with great fury, uprooting trees, disrupting communication, causing loss of many lives and doing enormous property damage. This car, at Port Washington, was unlucky enough to be directly in path of one of the falling trees.

This Was Their Home—Before Gale Struck

One of the sections of the East hardest hit by the hurricane which swept the seaboard was Long Beach, Long Island. Two girls are pictured seeking possessions amid the ruins of their gale-battered home, which was completely demolished by the fury of the wind. Many were injured by falling timbers and trees, and property damage was unusually heavy.

SETS NEW GLIDER RECORDS IN WEST

(International News Service)
DENVER.—Two new glider records for the rarefied atmosphere of the Rocky Mountain regions were recently established by Webb W. Moore and Earl W. Wolcott of Denver, using the same 265-pound glider.

Webb took off over the edge of a bluff into a 26-mile-an-hour wind and reached an altitude of 9,890 feet, or 1,600 feet above the take-off, establishing a new altitude record for this region.

Wolcott kept the glider aloft for an hour and 10 minutes, more than doubling the time of the previous record made in this state, of 30 minutes.

The flights were made on the Greenland ranch, 45 miles south of Denver.

Widow Of Young Dodge Recently Killed, Gets But Little Of $10,000,000

(International News Service)
PONTIAC, Mich., Sept. 23.—Mrs. Laurine McDonald Dodge, 21-year-old widow of motor millions heir Daniel Dodge, Thursday was prepared to contest the Dodge will which cut her off with $250,000 of his $10,000,000 estate.

Attorney Paul Ore, Detroit, filed notice in Oakland County Probate Court that he has been retained by Mrs. Dodge and that he may contest the will at a hearing set for Oct. 10.

Later, Ore said: "We consider the settlement given to Mrs. Dodge under the will inadequate and unfair in view of the estate being in excess of $10,000,000. I have entered my appearance in probate action to protect Mrs. Dodge's rights as a widow. Between now and Oct. 10 I will decide what action will be taken. If any, if no adjustment or settlement is made before the will comes up for probate."

Local Residents In Coast Storm

J. A. Porte And Son Return After Experiences In Eastern Hurricane

J. A. Porte of Laurel boulevard and his son Jack, now located in Wheeling, W. Va., who motored to Pocomoke, Rocky Point, Long Island, last week for a vacation period, returned home last night with exciting accounts of the experiences encountered there in that vicinity which is the heart of the recent hurricane which swept the eastern coast.

Among other various near encounters, while the immediate members of the family of A. L. Krenn, the Porte hosts, were repairing the roof of the Krenn home, another wind storm arose, another wind storm arose, another wind storm tore off the repaired section of the roof, hurling it down the street and twisting it around a telephone pole. Meanwhile, the workers were hanging on perilously to the eaves of the home.

While driving home, the vacationists were forced to drive under huge fallen trees, over bridges which had been covered with water, steadily rising, until running boards of the car were reached. The most gruesome sight was the scene of a beach near the Krenn home, which had formed the background for a gay picnic for the family several days before, and which at that time was overgrown with several bodies washed up by the tide.

New Storm Hits At Westhampton

Imperils Continued Search For 28 Persons Missing In Hurricane

(International News Service) WESTHAMPTON, N. Y., Sept. 23.—Striking with sudden fury, a new storm swept over Westhampton, L. I. today, imperiling the continued search for 28 persons officially listed as missing in the hurricane and tidal wave that lashed the South shore of Long Island and claimed 50 lives.

A 50-mile wind howled out of the skies, accompanied by a driving rain that forced rescuers to retreat in fear that another wall of water would rise out of the sea and again wash over the devastated area.

Wearily the rescuers had toiled during the night searching for bodies, their hopes thinning that any of the missing would be found alive when the second storm broke.

Structures that had been standing after Wednesday's hurricane began tottering and the sea began lashing the dunes, driving back those who had gathered on the narrow strand hoping that the ocean would give up its dead.

Desolation and despair—camp followers of every storm that brings death and destruction—gripped the fashionable Westhampton summer colony that now is nothing but a shambles of broken houses and torn roads.

The missing list began to dwindle as the names of survivors were obtained. Some were found in the shelter of homes miles inland to where they had fled after the series of 40-foot waves rolled over the island.

Long Island Gets Its Share of Floods

To Railroads' Aid

Fire in New London Adds to Hurricane Horror

George M. Harrison, President of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, and Carl A. Gray, President of the Union Pacific, are pictured leaving the White House after conferring with the President. They were named, with four other railroad and labor leaders, as an informal committee to aid in rehabilitating the railroads.

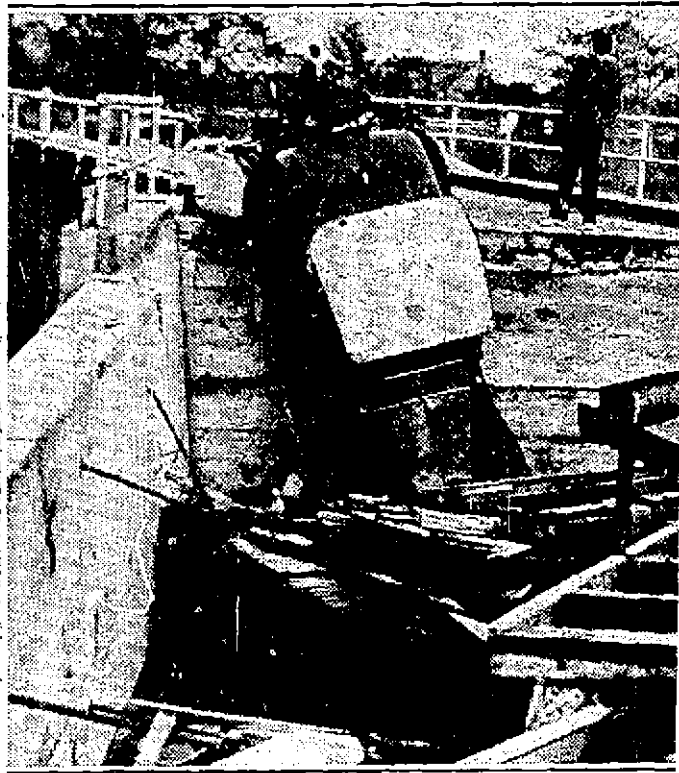

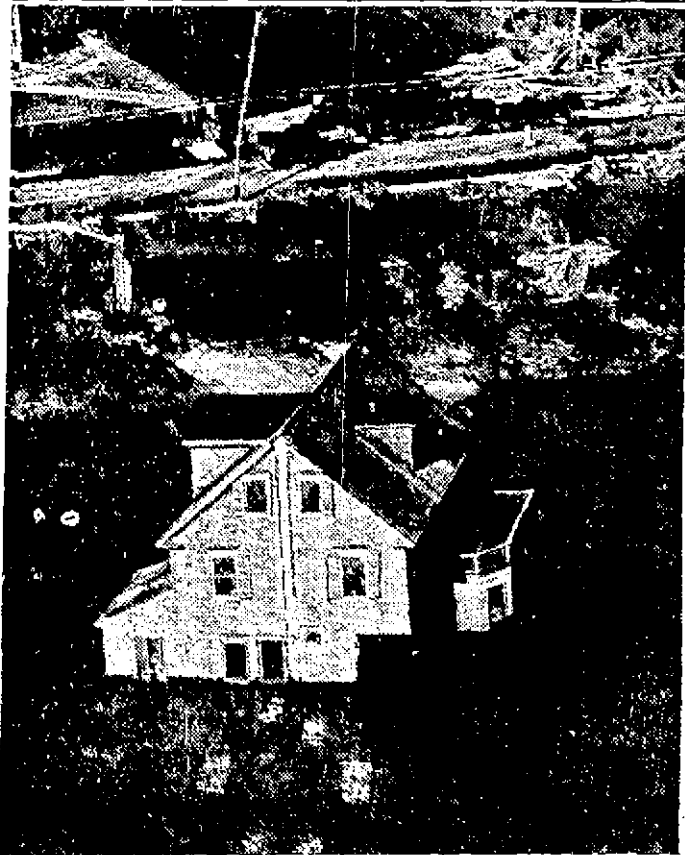

This aerial view of hurricane-swept New London, Conn., made from an Eastern Airlines plane, shows the still-burning buildings that added to the horror and confusion of the destructive storm that swept the Atlantic seaboard. The fires came at the height of the big blow, when firemen were hampered by failure of power and flooded streets. Note wind-wrecked buildings.

Members of the Nassau County police at Williston, L. I., are pictured at left with rubber rafts in which they started to evacuate more than 100 families marooned by the floods caused by a five-day downpour. At right, an ingenious Brooklyn youngster uses a home-made gondola to go to the grocery. The umbrella lends a distinctive touch to the Brooklyn gondolier. (Central Press)

When the hurricane that lashed the East coast struck Providence, R. I., it picked up this boat and deposited it in a restaurant on Westminster Street, which was sunk under nine feet of water. Providence was particularly hard hit by the gale, with property damage and loss of life running high.

Rail Conference Concluded

Carl R. Gray, president of the Union Pacific System, is pictured talking with reporters as he left the Washington conference of the six-man board to rehabilitate the railroads. He said that the railroad union stand against wage cuts has held up discussion of the railroads' muddled situation.

Lawrence County Farms And Farmers

By H. R. McCulloch, County Agent

SHEEP FIELD MEETINGS

Through the cooperation of the County Wool Grower association and Pure Bred Sheep Breeders of Northwestern Pennsylvania, a series of sheep field meetings have been arranged to be held throughout that district on September 26 and 27. The first meeting will be at the farm of D. W. Woods near Westfield church in North Beaver township between 8 and 9 o'clock Monday morning, September 26. The second meeting in Lawrence county will be held between the hours of 1:30 and 2:30 at the farm of E. D. Maxwell, Flamingo township, W. B. Connell, sheep and wool specialist, from State college will be present at these meetings to discuss sheep practices including shearing, feeding, lamb grading and marketing. A number of pure bred rams will be available at each stop for selection for those who may be interested.

All sheep men are invited and urged to attend one of these meetings.

READING AID TO PROFITABLE FARMING

Reading to put figures in the profit column of the farm business may sound unusual, but that's just what the Utah Farmer suggests.

Says The Farmer, a state rural magazine: "In farm papers, state and national bulletins, and from other sources, there are so many helpful suggestions about what to do and how to do it, that any farmer can profitably take time to do more reading. An hour with some of the bulletins may unearth an idea worth hundreds of dollars a year to your farm."

"Why take a chance on missing some money making plan? One of the greatest values of reading comes from the fact that it starts the reader to do his own thinking. If you think, plan and read more, we are sure there will be a better credit balance at harvest time."

"Make a list of the things you are most interested in, then write to the state experiment station or the United States Department of Agriculture and ask for information that will help you. But above all, don't be too busy to read. It's a mark of distinction to be well informed."

The Pennsylvania State College has several hundred bulletins, circulars and leaflets which have been published by the state agricultural experiment station and the extension service. These publications are loaded with valuable information for the business of farming and home-making. A list of these publications may be obtained from the Agricultural Mail room, State College, Pennsylvania.

FALL EGG PRODUCTIONS MEANS SPECIAL CARE

Because they are produced at a time when production is slackening to its low ebb, late summer eggs usually sell at the year's best prices.

"For the progressive poultryman, the improvement in price is enough incentive for him to maintain his total flock production so long as possible or practical under his conditions."

So long as both body weight and production hold up during the warm summer months, they have the advantage well in hand. With flock size reduced by culling and mortality, and with less heat-forming feed needed, grain consumption may be materially reduced. Reduction of grain feeding within safe limits stimulates mash consumption necessary for maintaining good egg production. The ingredients contained in the mash are essentially those which make up the edible egg.

When egg production falters in late summer, many poultrymen begin turning on artificial light by lengthening the feeding day at a time when the days normally become shorter, they give the fowls opportunity to consume feed in quantities proportionate to good production and maintenance of body weight.

In addition, many poultrymen, whether lights are available or not, make use of supplementary methods, such as wet mash feeding, to insure additional feed intake. Well ventilated houses, ample cool, fresh water, freedom from parasites and a carefully culled flock are other factors which determine poultry profits at this season of the year.

HOMEMAKERS TO WELCOME NEW FASHION TRENDS

After summer's sunny ladsness the crispness of fall invites us to try out some of the new fashion trends. What are they, and what will they do to us?

"Hair tends to ride high. These high hair styles will add height to a figure, will accent facial contours and features, and will be a problem when we go hat-hunting."

Tiny hats are in the foreground. These may be flattering to anyone who wears a high hair-do well, but on many persons they will appear ridiculous. There are others, not quite so high-lighted, in a variety of shapes that will probably be more becoming to the majority of us.

Necklines are going to extremes in both highs and lows. This is fortunate for we who are long-necked may cater to the high necklines and those of us who have short plump necks may show them to good advantage in the low necklines.

Shoulders remain high and slightly squared. Their broadness makes the apparent width of hips seem narrower, which is subtle flattery to most figures.

Waistlines are smooth, neat, and small. Now is the time for any of us who carry "spare tires" to get rid of them, either with exercise or by means of wise choice of a foundation garment. Slim waistlines are definitely "in" for fall.

Hemlines continue to rise, but only those of us who have slender legs and pretty ankles can afford to wear them. As always, a hemline that falls at or just below the fullest part of the calf is still the most becoming length for a short skirt.

Bulky furs are new. Tall slender women may glory in them, but short women may not indulge in such furs.

As to color, violets in all their hues, values, and intensity are making the biggest splash. Some violets are difficult to wear, as they tend to force yellow into the skin, but to those of us who have clear complexions and either sunny or very dark hair, they can be exciting.

DISEASED TOMATOES ARE UNFIT FOR SEED

Saving seeds from disease-free tomatoes is one of the best insurances for a clean crop next year.

Tomato growers may become discouraged because of losses from disease. One of the common ailments is bacterial canker. Small, light colored spots with brown centers develop on the fruit. The affected tomatoes may show internal browning which rarely extends to the surface. Affected plants may be wilted, have yellowed leaves.

Sometimes cracks appear in the stems. Stems cut lengthwise often show yellow streaks and may be hollow.

Bacterial canker is frequently transmitted through the seed. Therefore, growers are warned against saving seed from affected stock. It is advisable to discard seeds from any fruit showing internal discoloration. Squeeze the juice, pulp and seed from healthy fruit into a conical jar and keep these for 72 to 96 hours at a temperature of 65 to 70 degrees. No water is added. Later the seed should be separated from the pulp, washed clean and dried thoroughly.

Council Studies Proposed Projects

City's Cost Of Desired Improvements Would Approximate $100,000

NO DECISION MADE AT TODAY'S MEETING

Mayor Charles E. McGrath and colleagues met today in city hall and discussed proposed city-WPA projects for next year, where money for the materials would come from and also if the city's finances would be sufficient to complete them. Following the two hours conversation they had not arrived at a decision and said several conferences may be necessary before a decision may be made.

It was pointed out today by Finance Director James L. Fink that tax payments up to this time are $10,000 behind the same period of last year and that tax delinquent payments are $8,697 less than for the same period of 1937. The mayor and colleagues felt, they stated that only jobs for which the city is able to pay should be decided upon.

The cost of the proposed projects would approximate $100,000, for materials and equipment. Where this money can be secured was not known this morning. The city is now bonded almost to its limit and the colonists indicated they are averse to bonding the city to the hilt, then, if something else is required, a vote of the people would be required to increase the bonded indebtedness.

There are a number of streets which people desire to have paved next year. They are:

Street Improvements
Hillcrest avenue between Mercer and Belmont streets between Lincoln and Park avenues.

Electric street between Hamilton and Grimes street.
Delaware avenue between Hillcrest and Edgewood avenues.

Eric avenue between Walnut street and Crawford avenue.
Grant street between Mill and East streets.

Logan avenue between Boyles and Moody avenues.
Hillcrest avenue between Delaware and Audley avenues.

Northview avenue between Highland and Delaware avenues.
Garfield avenue between Delaware avenue and Neshaunock boulevard.

Huron avenue between Lathrop street and Frank avenue.
Crescent avenue between Shaw street and Shaw street.

The cost of materials and equipment for the foregoing would be approximately $20,000.

The cost of the storm sewer in Euclid avenue and North Mercer street was accounted for this year, it was stated.

Other Projects
However, there are other projects which have been asked but it was indicated that some of them might not be put through. The materials and equipment cost of the latter would be about $41,000. They are:

Construction of stone walls at the Disposal plant dikes.
Real estate park improvements.

Huron avenue storm sewer.
North street storm sewer between Beaver street and the Shenango river.

Sidewalk replacement of 30,000 square feet.
Gutter construction.
Improvement of the Big Run.

'PAIN IN THE NECK'
CADIZ, O.—Edward Turner's pain in the neck turned out to be just that. Turner, a coal miner, was in an automobile accident. He refused medical aid and went back to work. He complained only of "pain in the neck." An eventual hospital examination revealed a broken neck.

Rhode Island Death Toll In Storm Over 250

Property Damage Is Estimated At More Than $50,000,000

(International News Service)
PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 23.—Gradually recovering from the terrific ravages of a hurricane and tidal wave which wracked the entire state, Rhode Island today set its death toll above 250 and property damage at $50,000,000.

Communication and transportation systems throughout the state were badly crippled and were completely paralyzed along Narragansett Bay, where a 30-foot wall of water surged for 100 miles along the shoreline, engulfing everything in its path and wiping out entire villages and beach resorts.

At Misquanicutt, near Westerly, 50 bodies were recovered on the beach. At least 50 more were found on beaches at Point Judith and Watch Hill.

The peril of food shortage and pestilence was great in many sections of Rhode Island as every state agency aided police, national guardsmen, the coast guard and the Red Cross to maintain order, care for the suffering and re-establish contact with the world. Anti-typhoid vaccine was rushed into the state from Massachusetts, and health authorities ordered citizens to boil drinking water.

In Providence, inundated for a time under water at depths of seven to 10 feet, the death toll reached 61 today. Women and children were drowned in streets in the heart of the business section. Others were killed by falling debris. State police reported water still was flowing through some of the downtown streets. Business virtually was at a standstill, with power crippled.

SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

(Material Gathered and Edited by Student Reporters)

SENIOR HI-Y MEETS

Holding its first regular meeting of the season, the Senior Hi-Y club gathered at the "Y" last Wednesday evening to arrange plans for the coming year. Retiring president, Glenn Gordon, took charge of the meeting, during which various ways and means were discussed about raising funds for the coming year. Following this the election of officers took place, in which the following boys were selected: Dan Woolcock, president; Everett Hoffman, secretary; and Bill Bissell, treasurer.

BULLETIN BOARD SQUAD IN ACTION

Under the direction of Miss Bess Galley, Ne-Ca-Hi bulletin board squad has officially begun its tasks for the new semester. Posting bulletins of importance to the students, such as information on colleges, and all articles of general interest, both within and outside the school, this group performs a quite necessary, yet all too often overlooked service to the school. The squad is chosen from members of the art classes, and is in two groups. The morning squad is composed of Jim Fleeger, captain; Bill Nicholson and Joe Lallely. The afternoon group is made up of Paul Horney, captain; Fred Marcelle and Leo Kwolek.

HOME ECONOMICS AROMAS

For the past week, there has been a delightful assortment of savory odors on the first floor. This has taken place as a result of the experiments of Miss Ruth Wallace's cooking class.

Among other practical things that these students learn is the art of tanning. The aforementioned aromas arise from such edibles as relish, jams and jellies which the class is making. For those who have an avid appetite, these aromas create an empty feeling in the mid-section of their anatomy, and these gluttonous students would share the fruit of their efforts with them.

ANNOUNCEMENT SQUAD

Immediately after the dismissal of school on Wednesday, the announcement squad met in room 102. At this time, the faculty advisors gave instructions as to how their work is to be carried on. The squad operated during A and 3rd periods.

bringing announcements concerning school matters to the attention of the pupils gathered in the various session rooms.

The members of the squad for the present semester are: Barbara Parsons, captain; Melford Bader-schneider, Sherman Samuels, Jack Gaston, Virginia Morrison, Bill Fish, Kay Francis, Bob Beck and Llewellyn Daniels.

The squad is under the joint supervision of Miss English and Miss Elliott.

NEW LOCKER ARRANGEMENT

Following a suggestion of last year's Student Council, the locker system in Ne-Ca-Hi has been entirely revamped and made doubly efficient.

Henceforth students have created untold confusion in obtaining their lockers at the start of each school year since they were at liberty to choose any locker in the building not already taken. However, all has been changed this year by the council's experiment, and opinion is unanimous that the change is for the better.

The "novus rerum ordo" finds each of the various classes segregated in separate parts of the building and each class member is assigned a definite locker. By this plan, confusion and misunderstanding has been reduced to a minimum. Its marked success will no doubt warrant the confirmation of this system in years to come.

SHORTHAND AWARDS

Miss Genevieve Riddle, of the commercial department, announced that the following of her students have excelled in the 60-word shorthand test:

Louise Lemley, Angeline Pavla, Beatrice Thomas, Josephine Apella and Jane Biedka.

The following have passed the 80-word test:

PRE-SESSION SQUAD

The pre-session squad which introduces the service activities of each school day is, by reason of its duties, one of the most enterprising among the various service squads. Many of the members from last semester again volunteered their services and, with several new members, began their work immediately at the opening of the school year. Although the organization is not entirely completed, the present membership consists of James Emrick, Fred Dengler, Wayne Egan, Morion Love, John McGinn, Samuel Davy, Donald Paege, Harold Parver, Arnold McCartney, Wilton Taylor, Edward Rhodes, Harry Chambers, Alan McClure, Edward Pugh and Charles Cross.

THE GERMAN CLUB

On Tuesday, the German club of Ne-Ca-Hi held its first meeting in the cafeteria. Fred Dengler, the former vice president, presided and appointed Ralph Turner, Virginia Frederick and Robert Rappe as nominating committee. Miss Mary Riffer, advisor of the club, then introduced the guest speaker, Miss Mary Van Divort, who is the advisor of the Senatus Romanus, a sister organization to the German club. Miss Van Divort gave a delightful and instructive talk on her experiences in Germany. She made interesting comments on the service in travel rendered by American agencies, and told of the extensive office maintained by the companies in the foreign cities. She also enlarged upon the sociability of the people and the beauty of the scenery.

The club is looking forward to their next meeting when Miss Van Divort will continue her talk with a more detailed account of the cities and the points of historical interest.

LIBRARY SQUAD FORMED

During the past week, the popular library squad has been in the process of formation under the direction of Miss Helen Westlake and Miss Reba Sims. Performing small but necessary tasks in and about the library, this group has become one of the most distinctive in all Ne-Ca-Hi. As a rule, there are four persons on duty during each morning period and three in those of the afternoon. At the present time there is a total of 56 members. Although this number may fluctuate slightly during the semester, it will remain approximately the same. The members of the group follow: Eddie Allan, Pat Blaine, Francis Brookman, Jean Brown, Marie Brown, George Christoph, Marion Cray, Betty Jane Davis, Sam Davy, Charles Daly, Roy Denney, James Emerick, Edward Fortney, Carol Henderson, Marian Hildebrand, Dorothea Humphrey, Phillip Jozil, Bill Johnson, Jim Johnson, Charles Keresley, Walter Kovula, Jeanette Kuklin, Martha Lawrence, Charles Lewis, Anita Love, Esther Nowak, Mary Paboudjian, Katherine Pander, Barbara Parsons, Hilja Pirikala, Edna Robinson, Vera Sweet, Jeanne Taylor, Julian Wenda, Marian Unangst and Glen Ziegler.

The Human Side Of The News (By EDWIN C. HILL)

Emir Saud, the handsome young prince of Saudi Arabia, is visiting London, and Society and officialdom are making a tremendous fuss over him. The newspapers are running into ecstasies sounding like a Laurence Hope poem on oriental pulchritude—reminiscent of the peak excitement of the now forgotten "sob-sister" days of American journalism. The prince is dragged around to dinners, routs, fetes, races and what not, with butt-hunting Mayfair hostesses almost pulling him to pieces. He and the boys at No. 10 Downing Street are just buddies—nothing less. And this by a girl reporter.

"He is the most handsome man I have ever seen, a prince who might have stepped out of the Arabian Nights. Six feet four inches tall, he is seldom seen without dignified Arabian robes. His manners are exquisite, his slow smile lights up his dark, bearded face like sunlight, but his eyes are inscrutable."

This girl, I think is a fair runner-up for our own high-scoring ace in this department, of twenty years ago. The latter, hymning her heroine, wrote, "A set of raving black hair flowed down her back. But, as to the prince, those inscrutable eyes are the watchful, wary eyes of all Islam. England does well to show him a good time when he comes to London."

Fiercer than the pulling and hauling of the Mayfair hostesses is the off-stage struggle of rival empires for dominion and leadership over the millions of desert peoples. There is the powder keg of Palestine, and there is the vast matrix of British empire in which Arabia Felix is a crucial link, there is the border of India to be crossed by a compliant and co-operating Islam, there is the Suez Canal, and there are military bases and trade routes without which the empire would be "one with yesterday's 7,000 years". There is no doubt that the prince postal-cards home, "Having a wonderful time; wish you were here."

It's a system. From the days of Gordon, Roberts and Kitchener on—even before them—the salons of provincial leaders, educated them in their universities and depended on these local dynasties to deliver China piecemeal in that brotherly cooperation which Japan now says inspires her disciplinary measures on the mainland.

Perhaps some historian has traced this parallel between the methods in the subjugation of India and those of Japan in China. Japan, after Perry's visit, re-fashioned her civilization on the Occidental, industrial pattern with a cleverness which was nothing short of genius. It seems obvious that she also looked into England's recipe for grabbing off a few hundred million people.

There have been many other imitators—in fact, this opening deal with the war lords is standard practice, when nations start branching out in a big way. Even the Bolsheviks, steamed up as they were with their millennial schemes, caught on to this idea. When they moved down into Outer Mongolia, they left Karl Marx at home. They got close in with the Lamas and the ruling princelings, began to trade them guns for camel's hair and hides, left their religion and politics undisturbed and successfully relied on these bellwethers to bring in the rest of the flock.

Now they have a strong protectorate over the country and dominate its well-organized and thoroughly equipped army of 250,000, ready to launch it against Japan, when and if it is needed. And that, too, is the story of French colonization, and the story of all empire-building, clear back to Augustus.

Back in the days of our raging and rampant "Know Nothing" movement, we were undoubtedly ignorant provincials, always twisting the lion's tail on the Fourth of July and lambasting the foreigners in general. That has passed, but there has survived something of the founding fathers' distrust of foreign decorations and of the lure of foreign blandishments which made intellectual expatriates of some of our most able men.

School Project Is Considered

(International News Service)
 WASHINGTON, Sept. 23—PWA Administrator Ickes indicated today he was giving serious consideration to a $75,000,000 school project for the State of Pennsylvania.
 Ickes revealed that he had conferred with the PWA general state authority on the program, and added that they "might get some part of a grant" estimated at $48,000,000 for the program.
 At the same time, Ickes indicated that further consideration of projects for Pennsylvania would not be concluded because of an alleged excessive contract on the Western State psychiatric hospital at Pittsburgh.

Lack Of Funds For Setting Up Wage-Hour Act

Seek To Organize Compliance And Enforcement Group Of 1,000

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Hampered by insufficient funds, the wage-hour administration today curtailed preliminary organization to set up a staff of lawyers and economists and to organize a division of compliance and enforcement of 1,000 members. The new law became operative October 24.

Because of the shortage of funds, congress only allotted $350,000. Administrator Elmer F. Andrews said he is concentrating on getting out the basic regulations under the act and setting up a compliance and enforcement division. He said the appointment of industry committees for industries, as authorized by the act to make recommendations on wages and hours, must be deferred except in the case of three or four industries, until after the first of the year when congress appropriates more funds.

Committee Named.
So far only one committee has been named, that for the textile industry, headed by Donald Nelson. This committee will hold its first meeting with Andrews on Oct. 11.

Andrews said his legal staff is trying to determine whether industrial work done at home, like needlework, comes under the act. Governor Winship of Puerto Rico, where about 30,000 islanders, or about 60 per cent of the island's workers, do needlework at home, asked Andrews for the ruling. If it does, Winship asked if some sort of a differential could be given Puerto Rico, but Andrews stated the law does not allow him to permit an hourly wage below 25 cents in an interstate industry during the first year of the act.

MARGIOTTI BRINGS
EARLE INTO PROBE

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Sept. 23.—Gov. George H. Earle, it was learned today probably will be called to answer the accusation of his former attorney general, Charles J. Margiotti, that he was partly to a plan to divide the profits on the $5,000,000 state finance building between himself and Matthew H. McCloskey, Jr., the contractor.

Margiotti testified before the house graft investigating committee that during a game of cards at the executive mansion between the governor, McCloskey and himself, McCloskey remarked that all profits on the construction above $75,000 would go to the governor. Margiotti added that "I don't know that Earle ever received a cent from McCloskey."

Margiotti, who was dismissed as attorney general by the governor during the bitter Democratic primary campaign, quoted the governor as replying:

"Don't you think that's damned nice of Matt?"

Members of the governor's family were present as Margiotti testified.

Margiotti's testimony highlighted the day's proceedings in which the man who is now the chief accuser of the Earle administration was asked what testimony he had backing up each averment of wrongdoing listed in the amended petition of District Attorney Carl B. Shelley.

NEW CASTLE--YOUNGSTOWN EAST PLAY TONIGHT

Taggart Stadium Scene Of Battle Of Grid Machines

New Castle High Will Get Test Tonight; Game Will Start At 8 O'Clock; Youngstown East Will Send Big Team To New Castle; Locals Want Revenge For Setback Last Year; Starting Lineup Intact; Game Will Draw Big Crowd To Taggart Stadium In Event Of Good Weather.

WITH the lusty cheers of the hungry football fans ringing in their ears, two highly trained and eager school-crowded eleven—New Castle "Red Hurricane" and Youngstown East High—await the kickoff at eight o'clock tonight, in Taggart Stadium, signaling the start of their annual grid battle.

Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh gave his New Castle machine a final polishing last night at Taggart Stadium, and pronounced it fit for the gruelling contest confronted when Coach Dick Barrett sends his big Yellow and Blue eleven out on the greensward in an effort to wrest a second straight victory from Pa New's boys.

New Castle Leads

The New Castle and Youngstown East series stands two for New Castle, and one for East, to date. The New Castle boys won in 1925, 51 to 0; New Castle won in 1926, 26 to 6; and lost in 1927, 7 to 0. The locals have scored a total of 87 points in the three games and East has tallied 13. On paper New Castle holds a slight edge, but paper advantages are not much good.

The locals have one victory, 19 to 0, over Butler High, and East has been defeated by Akron North, 6 to 2, in the only games that either team has played this year.

Expect Lot Of Passes

It would not be surprising to see the game tonight fought in the air. Both teams have fine forward passing attacks. East beat New Castle last year on a pass in the final seconds of the game. Coach Barrett has been stressing passes all week; so has Mister Phil Bridenbaugh. Who will catch the most?

New Castle will have a slight edge on the line, where it averages 170 from end to end, but will be outweighed somewhat in the backfield, which tips 164. East has a rather green team, as far as actual veterans are concerned, although many of the starters this year were first string reserves last year. The three who started against New Castle last year are Hapley, a tackle; Wary, a fullback; and Jackson, a halfback. Only four of the New Castle boys who began the East game last year will be on the starting eleven tonight. Roussos, Kulnis, Genter and Lauro, New Castle will have a slight advantage in experience.

Four Good Linemen

Coach Barrett is well pleased with the work of Peretto, Rylander, Hausmeyer and Fencessey on the line, and is expecting great things of this quartet of boys tonight. The East high backfield, with the Jackson brothers, colored speedsters, will make trouble for New Castle. East High will have to watch Genter.

Cialella and Sowinski tonight, as this trio is liable to uncork long runs any time. Lauro will take care of the line plunging.

In event of good weather there should be a fine crowd in the stands. Youngstown asked for 800 tickets and reports a ready sale. The crowd will probably go over the 6,000 or 7,000 mark. Faculty Manager Nelson reports everything in readiness for the battle. The gates will open at 7 o'clock. The student gates will open at 6:30 o'clock.

The Youngstown team will be attired in yellow jerseys and blue numerals. The New Castle team in red jerseys and white numerals.

Muskingum is a member of the Ohio Conference and have freshman rules which makes it so that young McNeil will not be eligible for the varsity until his sophomore year. McNeil was a W. P. I. A. L. All-Scholastic tackle last year and one of the mainstays on the New Castle High line. Muskingum will play W. & J. at New Concord on October 7.

Pitchers Battle

Pitt And Dukes Open College Grid Season In Week-End Frays

Saturday afternoon Jock Sutherland will unleash what is quite likely to be the most ferocious Panther that has yet been seen around the University of Pittsburgh campus. Also on hand to help open the season will be West Virginia University from Morgantown.

With all due respect to the Mountaineers, who had a fine club last year (Sun Bowl Champions) and who expect to be even more unfriendly this season, there is a definite possibility that Coach Sleepy Glenn's lads will be among the nation's best also-ans by Saturday evening. By nightfall, too, after the smoke of battle has cleared away, it will be strange indeed if more than one coach, whose team has the misfortune to be on the Pitt schedule, is not hurriedly scanning steamship timetables, petitioning the government for protection, or enlisting with the Spanish Loyalists.

Panther's Year To Howl

Indications are that this is the Panther's year to howl, if panthers do howl. Pitt, of course, wasn't exactly silent last year, but it was not until the end of the season that the Sutherland machine outgrew a tendency to sputter and stall when the going got tough. Again, this may conceivably be the last year that Pitt can hope to gain the peak of the football heap. The University's recent trend away from the idea of professionalism has cut sharply into the grade of football material being drawn to the Oakland school. The tip-off on this fact appeared in the 1937 freshman team, which won only one game; they were severely mauled by the Tech yearlings, and although they edged out the State cubs 6-0, they were out first-downed 16 to 1.

Not as deep in man-power as last year, the Pitts nevertheless have a seasoned crew that should literally mop up everything in sight. The Panther line, not exactly sieve-like in appearance, is looking up in this manner: Daddio and Hoffman at the ends; Merkowsky and Hafer at tackles; Lezouski and Petro, guards, and 200-pound Bob Dannies at center. Lettermen all, and with the exception of Junior Ralph Hafer, seniors all.

Wait Raskowski, one of the best linemen to come out of the local high school, is also first team caliber. Chickerno, Stebours, Cassano, and Goldberg, potentially the country's greatest backfield, complete a team eight of whose members have been placed on the All-America check list by the 1938 Illustrated Football Annual's experts.

Don't say we told you: Pitt 27, West Virginia 7.

Tonight, Duquesne's Night Riders inaugurate the Pittsburgh collegiate pigskin campaign by picking on Wayneburg under the maddas at Forbes Field. The Dukes, thoroughly riddled by the graduation of nearly every 37 regular, may not be quite so dangerous as of other years. With a solid line to serve as a team nucleus, however, and Vince McKee and Gene Corder to replace Brumbaugh and Mattek Coach Chipper Smith's entry can't be counted out of the picture by a long shot.

A vote for Duquesne, 22-6.

At the risk of also having to look up the aforementioned steamship timetables, we venture the following additional predictions for the week end:

Bucknell 16—Furman 6.

Dartmouth 41—Bates 0.

Holy Cross 27—Providence 0.

Geneva 6—Lock Haven 6.

Pirates-Cubs Both Win Two

Pittsburgh Still Has Three
And Half Game Lead,
Giants Push Reds
Out Of Way

TOBIN-VAUGHN PIRATE STARS

By ANTHONY J. PUGLIESE
International News Service Staff
Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Regardless of the ultimate outcome of the torrid National League scrap, Chicago's Bill Lee and Clay Bryant must be accorded most of the credit for keeping the Cubs battling the Pirates right down to the wire.

Lee, especially, comes in for the plaudits of the baseball gentry today after pitching his fourth successive blanking to equal the league shutout record set by Ed Reulbach of the Cubs in 1908 and tied three years later by Grover Cleveland Allerander of the Phillies.

Pirates Win Two
He gave up 10 hits to the Phillies yesterday but the Cubs won the double-header opener, 4 to 0. Lee's string of scoreless innings now stands at 37. His brilliant mound work, Bryant, then pitched eight hitless and drove in the tying run as the Cubs also took the nightcap, 2 to 1.

With only 10 games left on the card, the Pirates maintained their 3½ game lead over the Bruins by trouncing the Dodgers, 6 to 0 and 11 to 6. Jim Tobin won the opener with a four-hit performance and Arky Vaughan paced the Bucs in the nightcap by driving in three runs with three doubles and a single.

Reds Pushed Out
The Giants displaced the Reds in third place by taking a twin victory, 6 to 1 and 2 to 1, from the Rhinelanders. Hal Schumacher turned in a six-hit performance and contributed a home run in the opener, and Mickey Haskin's two homers and Harry Gumbert's three-hitter accounted for the nightcap.

The Bees lightened their grip on fifth place by defeating the Cardinals twice, 6 to 5 and 2 to 1. Vince DiMaggio, Bees' centerfielder, broke the major league strikeout record by whiffing for the 114th time.

In the only American League game played, Red Rolfe and Joe Gordon hit home runs to give the Yankees a 7 to 4 win over the White Sox. The victory snapped a six-game losing streak for the champions.

Paul Schwartz To Box O'Brien

Former 126 Pound Youngstown Champion Signed
For Battle

WERTZ WANTS TO WIN OVER KOWOLIK

Paris O'Brien, the plucky, ducking, side-stepping lad from McKees Rocks will fight Paul Schwartz, former 126 pound champion of Youngstown in the Arena here Monday night. Paul was picked as O'Brien's opponent after the McKees Rocks
battler instructed Matchmaker
Tommy Leach to get anyone who would not weigh over 133 pounds.
According to Leach, Schwartz is good.

O'Brien has proved himself here on two occasions. Schwartz hopes to beat O'Brien and take O'Brien's place in fandon's favor.
Mickie Rubin, the local hooksmith has promised to cut out his dildoes and hopes to score his third straight victory when he battles George Segerman. Rubin can hit like a pile-driver. They will weigh 175 or under for the scrap.

The feature battle of the night,
however, will be, or rather is in-cended to be that between Andy Wertz of Youngstown and Steve Kowalik,
the slugging Dutchman from Mc-Kees Rocks. They met once before and the Dutchman won.

However, won only by the shade of an eye-lash. Wertz has informed Jefferson A. C. members that he would like nothing better than to stand up and trade punches again with Kowalik and it was due to this match was arranged.

Jack Virgelli of Butler is reported to be in good condition and his bout with Steve Morgan of Youngstown should result in some heavy hitting.
Virgelli fought here a year or two ago and like Morgan is a veteran at amateur battling.

Toni is Rugged
Jimmie Dalley of Youngstown and Sully Toni of Midland are sure to put up a thrilling scrap at 155 pounds. Toni won the chief prize and Dalley would not be averse to carrying away the Perelman watch
next Monday night.

Muddy Kurtz of McKees Rocks who pulled some of the antics that made Elmo the Mighty a favorite in the Jolly bowl, will fight Mike Sandino. Kurtz is a hard chap to hit solidly about the only place he has been nailed was when he was cornered.

Halbert Brooks, local colored lad, who is noted for his tap dancing
here will try his hands out Monday night and his foe will be George Tarr of Youngstown. This ought to be a peach of an opening bout with plenty of fancy steps tossed in.

PSYCHOLOGIST LISTS

TRICKS OF HYPNOTISM

BOSTON, Sept. 14.—Many feats credited to hypnotic suggestion are merely the result of normal suggestion, according to Professor Judson R. Butler, Boston University instructor of psychology.

"There are four classifications of normal suggestion," he said, "and the most common is habit. An example is the soldier who automatically obeys commands."

"The second is limiting the field of attention. By doing this it is easy, with the cooperation of the subject, to accomplish suggestion, following the dictates of an eminent person is the third type, and the fourth is, enlisting identical values with causes."

"With any of these four methods it is possible to obtain feats often credited to hypnotism."

On Sunday evening, the grangers will observe their annual church night and they planned to attend services in a song at the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church. The pastor, Rev. Thomas Berger, will deliver an appropriate sermon based on the theme, "Harvest Time."

The third and fourth degree team will confer initiatory work on a class of candidates of the East New Castle grange on Tuesday evening, September 27.

Thursday evening, October 6, the next regular meeting is scheduled.

U. S. Civil Aeronautics Authority To Make Inspection Of Port

PART OF SURVEY
IN ENTIRE NATION

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C. Sept. 23.—The fitness of New Castle's new airport to care for increasing air traffic needs will be closely appraised as part of a nation-wide survey to be made by the Civil Aeronautics Authority.

The CAA was created by congress last session. To it was delegated the power of centralizing all governmental activities dealing with aeronautics. Congress also directed the new agency to make an investigation and report no later than next Feb. 1 as to the advisability of appropriating money for Federal participation in airport construction.

The CAA will commence its study of Pennsylvania within the next two weeks, it is indicated here. Already certain data on landing fields of the state have been collected. The next phase of the investigation will involve personal visits to the various airports, including New Castle.

From its observations in Pennsylvania and the other states, the CAA expects to report to congress on the need for the Federal government to participate in the development, construction and maintenance of a national airport system.
